REDS CHECK NAZIS ON STALINGRAD FRONT

All-India Committee Votes to Appeal to Allied Leaders

One of Great Tank Battles of War Is Said to be Raging

Moscow, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Hurling its own huge tanks against the mechanized Nazi onrush, the Red army checked the Germans today along the whole Stalingrad front in one of the great tank battles of the war, with infantry crushed by the hundreds under the treads of the steel war wagons, battlefield dispatches said today.

Only in the critical Belaya Glina sector 100 miles into the north Caucasus were the Russian defenses still reported sagging before the big Axis offensive. There dive bombers blasted ceaselessly at the Russian lines as they battered the way for German gains.

The Russians reported rolling the Nazis back in hard counter-attacks at the Don bend approaches to Stalingrad, and said fierce-charging Don and Kuban Cossacks sabred more than 3,000 Germans as they beat off the assault of two tank and two infantry divisions in a fight for a Cossack village south of the Don. Reports from this front said the Russians were driven from the town twice, but each time won it back.

(The German high command took significant cognizance of the arrival of Red army reserves in the battle, mentioned large-scale Russian use of tanks in the Caucasus for the first time and said the bolstered Soviet forces were counter-attacking against German and Rumanian troops between the Sal and Don rivers, in the Don bend, and in the Rzhev salient, northwest of Moscow.

(The Germans said they had thrown large air forces into a heavy defense in the Rzhev area, indicating that the scale of the Russian attacks there was considerable.

(The Berlin communiqué said Axis forces had penetrated deeper into the Caucasus, driving across the Kuban river to a point 30 miles northeast of the Maikop oil fields which produce seven per cent of Russia's oil.)

Speeding their drive for oil in the Caucasus the Germans were reported today landing troop-laden transports and dropping swarms of paratroopers behind Soviet lines in a costly expenditure of men and machines.

In the first officially reported big-scale attempt to put air borne troops down in the rear of Soviet positions on the Caucasus battlefield.

Ruhr Visited By RAF Again

London, Aug. 7.—(P)—A strong force of RAF bombers last night attacked the big German industrial center of Duisburg, target of repeated raids in July, and other points in the Ruhr valley, the air ministry announced today.

Nazi airdromes in the low countries also were attacked by British raiders, six of which failed to return from their night missions, a communiqué said.

The size of the strong force was not disclosed officially but a British source said that in the days before the British hurled more than 1,000 bombers against Germany in a single night, last night's total would have been considered "a whopper."

WAR BULLETINS

New York, Aug. 7.—(P)—BBC quoted Juhu Paasikivi, former Finnish minister to Russia, today as telling Danish newspapermen in Copenhagen that "in Finland the question of peace with Russia is often discussed."

Philadelphia, Aug. 7.—(P)—The United States is not yet producing the tools of war fast enough to win the war, says Lieut. Gen. William S. Knudsen.

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Three food ships loaded with wheat for starving Greece will leave Montreal today under safe conduct granted by the German and Italian governments, the state department announced. They are the first of a number of ships scheduled to carry 15,000 tons of wheat from North America each month.

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—A measure authorizing expenditure of $974,634,000 to develop United States naval outposts and to provide funds for "a kind of secret weapon" was signed into law today by President Roosevelt.

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Aug. 7.—(P)—United States equipment sent to Australia is a "trickle" which could be replaced by three days of America's war production, according to an authoritative source who cannot be specifically identified.

President Advises Press That He Has Not Finished Review of Testimony

RUMOR UNCONFIRMED

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—President Roosevelt told a press conference today he had not yet finished his review of testimony in the case of eight alleged Nazi saboteurs and added that he did not know whether he would finish today.

The president made no amplification of that brief statement.

Shortly before the press conference, the White House said that "the president has not yet concluded his reading of the testimony" in the saboteur case.

This statement was read to reporters by William D. Hassett, an assistant secretary, in response to inquiries about reports that Mr. Roosevelt had decreed death for six and clemency for two Nazi agents tried by a military tribunal on charges that they came to this country to sabotage vital war activities.

Mr. Roosevelt had disclosed (Turn to Page Eleven)

Monoxide Is Blamed For Cabin Deaths

Pittston, Aug. 7.—(P)—A man and woman whose nude bodies were found yesterday in a summer house at nearby Forest Hills were killed by carbon monoxide fumes from an automobile, Wyoming County Coroner Burns Sheldon announced.

The couple identified as Joseph Mangione, 38, Pittston taxicab company owner, and Mary M. Pechalonis, 34, of Pittston, were believed to have been dead since July 14 when they first were reported missing.

The bodies lay in a first floor bedroom directly over a garage in which Mangione's car was found. The car's ignition was turned on, the throttle partly open and the gasoline tank empty. Investigators said they believed the motor had been left running to charge the car's battery.

The bodies were discovered by state police summoned by James Mangione, a brother, who visited the summer home and found the car in the garage and the house locked.

The house is only a few miles from the spot where the body of 19-year-old Margaret Martin, of Kingston, was found in a sack in December, 1938. Her slaying has not been solved.

Amos Pinchot Tries Suicide

Westport, Conn., Aug. 7.—(P)—Norwalk hospital described as "fair" today the condition of Amos R. E. Pinchot, 68, New York lawyer and brother of former Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, who was admitted Tuesday night after what Chief John A. Dolan of the town police said was a suicide attempt.

Pinchot, Dolan said, slashed several veins in one wrist while visiting at the estate of William P. Eno, a relative by marriage. The hospital would not say whether his condition had improved since he was admitted.

The police chief said Pinchot had been in ill health and was mentally depressed and arrived here, accompanied by a nurse, last week. The nurse, he related, became alarmed Tuesday night at Pinchot's long absence from his bedroom and went to look in the bathroom, but found the door locked.

AUTO TURNS OVER AFTER HITTING SIGN

Simon A. Huber, Jr., 43, Sustains Fractured Skull In Accident In Glade Early Today

FUNERAL ON MONDAY

Injuries which he received when his car overturned after crashing into a large sign near the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue east, and Marion street about two o'clock this morning resulted in the death of Simon A. Huber, Jr., 43, of Clarendon, at the Warren General Hospital at 8:30 o'clock.

Death was caused by a fractured skull, according to the attending physician. In addition, Huber suffered several scalp wounds and minor bruises.

According to Officers Charles Musante and Wilfred Hewitt, who investigated the accident, Huber was traveling east in a 1942 Plymouth coach when at a point approximately 62 feet from the intersection of South Marion street the right hand wheels left the pavement.

It was stated that the car traveled about a foot inside the curb all the way to the Marion street intersection, knocking down a speed limit sign. The car then went diagonally across Pennsylvania avenue and crashed into a large Kendall gasoline sign in front of the Carlson Service Station.

After hitting the sign, which was broken off at the base, police said witnesses told them that the car rolled over sideways, possibly twice, before coming to rest on its right side with the front end of the car facing Pennsylvania avenue. Police said that at no point in the path of the car was there any evidence of brakes being applied.

The driver, who was alone in the car, was thrown out by the impact.

The injured man was taken to the hospital in the Peterson ambulance and remained unconscious until his death.

Coroner Ed C. Lowrey, who was called following Mr. Huber's death (Turn to Page Eleven)

Staggering Sum Is Voted For Defense

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—A compilation of congress' fiscal activity showed today that the staggering sum of $205,514,657,286 had been appropriated or authorized between June 1, 1940, to June 30, 1943 for expenditure to provide the nation's defense and war needs.

The figures, including a breakdown of both war necessitated and "normal" appropriations voted this year, were prepared by the bureau of the budget and were placed in the congressional record by Senator Glass (D-Va.) and Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of the house and senate appropriations committee.

Of the $139,770,114,641 appropriated during this session, Cannon pointed out that approximately $133,370,000,000 was earmarked for war purposes while approximately $6,400,000,000 was tagged for ordinary costs of government.

Glass, in his analysis of the figures, declared that congress had reduced appropriations for the normal activities of government by $1,667,005,150.89 below last year's figures, and made increases in that category of $579,872,154, leaving a net cut of $1,087,132,996.71.

GREEN READY TO ACT TO AVOID DISPUTES

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(P)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor indicated yesterday that he was prepared to cooperate with the CIO in arbitrating jurisdictional disputes which threaten to interfere with industry's war production.

He said at a late press conference that his international unions had not empowered him to set up a joint AFL-CIO committee of arbitration purposes, but added, "I will act when such power is delegated to me."

Flying Boats Are Approved

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Chairman Donald M. Nelson said today the WPB had approved construction by Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, of 500 "Mars"-type flying boats, with an initial order for 100 to be placed by the navy shortly.

The other 400 seventy-ton cargo carrying planes will be built, Nelson said, if the initial program is accomplished successfully in Kaiser's Pacific coast shipbuilding plants.

Nelson said Kaiser now in Washington, would go to the coast and then "come back and tell us what materials and facilities he needs, when he can get started, and where he will build them."

Other WPB officials said they believed Kaiser planned to construct the big sky freighters at Richmond, Calif., on San Francisco Bay.

Nelson said no other builder would participate in the program under present plans.

5 Americans Decorated By Wilhelmina

Unusual Ceremonies Take Place at Residence of The Netherlands Ambassador

AT PRESS CONFERENCE

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands conferred decorations upon five members of the United States navy today, including Admiral Thomas C. Hart, retired for distinguished service in the south-western Pacific campaign against the Japanese.

The ceremonies at the residence of the Netherlands Ambassador A. London, followed an appearance of the queen as a guest at President Roosevelt's press conference at which time she said contributions of the press and radio to efforts of war leaders was of "immense value" in helping lead mankind "toward a brighter tomorrow."

Others decorated were:

Rear Admiral William A. Glassford, American chief of staff of the combined fleets in the western Pacific.

Commander T. H. Binford, commander of destroyer division 58, which took part in the battle of February 12, 1942, against numerically superior Japanese forces.

Commander H. E. Eccles, commander of the destroyer Edwards, which took part in that battle.

Lieutenant Commander H. P. Smith, commander of the destroyer Stewart, which also took part in the Lombok Strait battle.

The queen of the Netherlands engaged in no question-and-answer exchange with reporters, but read a statement after Mr. Roosevelt had introduced the members of his press conference to her in a group.

Mr. Roosevelt, also, had mentioned the fact that the constitutions of both the Netherlands and the United States guaranteed freedom of expression and of the press, and that these rights are a fundamental part of government.

After reading her statement, the queen and Mr. Roosevelt sat down and the president shifted into the routine of an ordinary press conference, passing along information and answering questions.

Although further away from the Netherlands than ever before in her 61 years, diplomatic protocol gave the queen the privilege of standing on Dutch soil and decorating the five Americans for distinguished service.

Cargo Planes To Carry 400 Being Built

Los Angeles, Aug. 7.—(P)—Gigantic cargo planes, capable of mass transport of troops across the Atlantic, are not a vision of the future—they are an actuality, in quantity production.

And even greater ships, with a capacity of 400 soldiers, able to span the Atlantic in 10 to 12 hours, have passed the speculative stage to the point where the industry could begin their construction.

Tom M. Girdler, chairman of the board of Consolidated Aircraft Corp. and Maj. Reuben H. Fleet, the company's founder and president, made these statements last night as they told the nation, in separate radio talks, that the industry is prepared to tackle the heavy transport problem.

Referring to the 40-passenger craft, Major Fleet, in a broadcast here (CBS) said aircraft engineers "have planned this greater airplane to the point where our industry could begin its production."

Rubber Survey Committee Is Found Confering In a Park

BY IRVING PERLMETER
Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—President Roosevelt's special committee to survey the nation's rubber situation went to work today on two open-air park benches.

Washingtonians strolling through Lafayette square across the street from the White House, discovered the committee, which could hardly be distinguished from nearby persons feeding pigeons.

The six-foot frame of Chairman Bernard Baruch, however, was the give away. With him were Dr. Karl Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, the other two members of the committee, and one or two assorted rubber experts.

All were hatless and in shirt sleeves except the chairman, who wore a summer jacket and a straw hat.

The only thing secret about the conference was that the conversation was in low tones. The two benches were in the very heart of the park, in the shadow of the famous Andrew Jackson statue.

Reporters, however, could approach the meeting only long enough to be shoed away, along with pigeons, by Baruch.

RESOLUTION CONSIDERED BY CONGRESS

Endorsement of Action, Backed By Gandhi, Is Regarded As a Foregone Conclusion

MESSAGE TO CHINA

BY PRESTON GROVER
Bombay, Aug. 7.—(P)—The working committee of the All-India Congress party voted today to appeal to President Roosevelt, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek and Ivan Maisky, Russian ambassador to Britain, to support its demands that Great Britain grant India immediate independence.

Maulana Abdul Kalam Azad, president of the congress, was authorized to dispatch the appeals as soon as the congress committee passes upon a resolution calling for a mass campaign of passive resistance to continued British rule.

Endorsement of the resolution, backed by Mohandas K. Gandhi, was regarded as a foregone conclusion.

Azad opened the meeting with a speech calling for immediate Indian independence but saying the committee did not want British or American armies to leave India.

Gandhi, who followed him and received an ovation, told the committee he did not want the Japanese in India because that would mean the end of China and perhaps Russia.

"As a matter of fact I am a greater friend of the British than I ever was," Gandhi said. "My friendship demands that I make them aware of their mistakes."

"Never believe, as I have never believed, that the British are going to fail," he told the assembly. "I do not consider them a nation of cowards. I know that before they accept defeat every soul in Britain will be sacrificed."

Gandhi himself sent a message to the Chinese today to "let China know that this struggle is as much for her defense as it is for India's liberation." He declared that India's "ability to give effective assistance" is dependent on her freedom.

In an incongruous setting under a canvas tent's big top, the 350 military committee members assembled to begin celebrations for throwing into motion what may become India's grimmest bid for independence.

They had the scrawny little leader's own word again last night, on the eve of the conference, that the time for non-violent action is (Turn to Page Eleven)

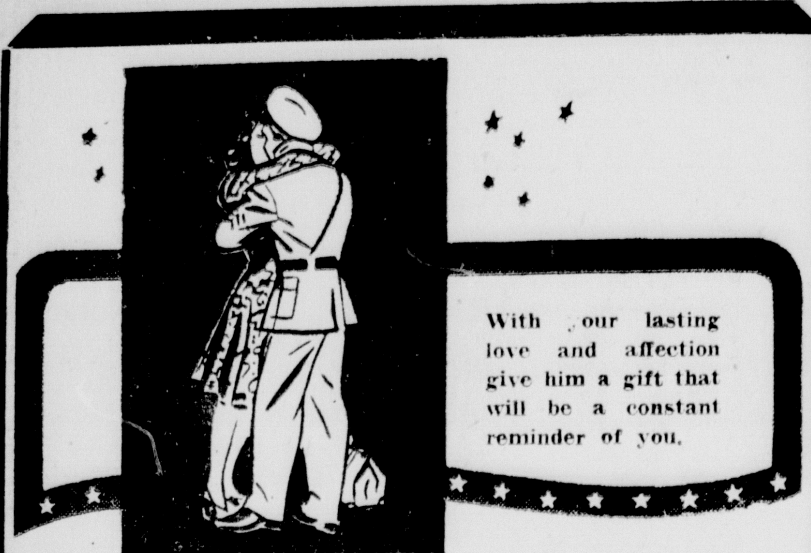

West Virginia Election Close

Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 7.—(P)—The big margin of 201 votes separated the Republican aspirants for the U. S. senate nomination today as West Virginia's 55 county courts began the official canvass of Tuesday's primary election ballots.

Raymond J. Funkhouser's lead over Chapman Revercomb, Charleston attorney, was parbed by a correction in the unofficial tabulation of Wayne county.

The lead of Funkhouser, Shepherdstown business man and a newcomer to state politics, was trimmed by a reversal of Wayne's figures which previously had shown a vote of 520 for Funkhouser to 360 for Revercomb.

Gov. Matthew M. Neely won the Democratic senatorial nomination in a landslide victory over former Gov. H. G. Kump.

Gentle Reminder

Paul T. Winter (holding reins), gas rationing administrator for Blair county, Pa., drives around Altoona with horse and buggy to remind motorists of the need to conserve gasoline and rubber. A veteran of the first World War, Winter is an ardent horse lover and believes gas rationing will bring back the popularity of horseback riding as recreation. (Associated Press.)

Youngsville Fair Will Be Carried On

Altoona, Aug. 7.—(P)—Paul T. Winter, Blair county's war rationing administrator, rides an antiquated buggy to remind motorists of the gasoline shortage.

He dramatized the beginning of rationing May 15 by riding the horse-drawn vehicle down the main thoroughfares of Altoona. He's done it many times since.

"Not a few motorists who applied for 'X' and 'B' rationing cards said later my buggy trips made them more conscious of the necessity of conserving gasoline and tires now when the need is greatest," Winter said.

Since his first buggy trip, Winter has tried many ways to remind motorists of the necessity of using automobiles only when necessary.

He has introduced an instruction period before civic clubs which he calls a "Board's Eye" view of war rationing, its inconveniences and other ramifications.

Winter is a veteran of the first World War. Twenty-four years ago he served with the 264th engineers of the American Expeditionary Forces as a regimental sergeant major.

Now that registration for permanent gasoline rationing has ended, Winter may have a little more time for horses. He loves horses.

FLYING FREIGHTERS TO SPEED CARGOES TO ALLIED FRONTS?

Figures show tons of cargo craft can take across Atlantic and time needed

There's big talk in Washington about mass construction of flying cargo boats as an answer to the U-boat menace, with men like Henry Kaiser advocating great air freighters weighing up to 200 tons. Map compares performance of proposed flying boats with current means of cargo transport. By making many more round trips, 2000 70-ton air freighters could carry the same amount of cargo annually to a given front as 100 cargo vessels.

ABOUT THAT SECOND FRONT

All the signs point to some dramatic development in this war. What it will be, or where, or upon whose initiative, only a very few persons know—and perhaps they are not quite certain.

It could be the collapse of the sturdy Russian defense. Undoubtedly Hitler is pouring every possible ounce of his strength into an effort to break the Red army now. He may succeed. But in all probability he will not, although he is doing tremendous damage.

More probably, the sensation will be the opening of a second front by either the Anglo-American alliance or the Japanese. Nobody should be too greatly surprised if the two came almost simultaneously—the United Nations trying to distract Hitler from his Russian adventure, while Japan, in Siberia, attempts to distract the Reds from Hitler.

Over whatever the Japanese may do our control is limited. Moreover, President Roosevelt has promised that we shall wage a war of offensive. Therefore it is up to us to decide, principally, where we are going to hit Hitler, and how.

Laymen in a democracy are entitled to their opinions. But lay opinions in the matter of second front strategy are not worth the breath it takes to expound them. Only the experts should determine, on the basis of secret information properly withheld from the public, when we are ready to strike, and where, and how.

Conceding that probably we shall open a second front soon, there is one point on which the public should keep very clear.

If our second front is in the air—if it is a day-by-day series of devastating raids upon the Reich's industrial centers and transportation arteries—then in launching it we shall not have burned all our bridges behind us.

We can wage such warfare assured that even if it should prove less conclusive than we hope, we shall have done more damage to Germany than to ourselves.

A second land front can not be opened in Europe, however pressing Russia's emergency, unless we are prepared to gamble our national existence upon that one throw of the dice.

The losses we must suffer, landing an army in Europe and attempting to supply it, will be so unbearable that they could not be repeated.

If such an attempt is made and it fails, we shall have lost the war for keeps, right there.

The decision is too vital to be made on the basis of emotion. If Franklin Roosevelt were so weak that he could be egged into rashness by pre-printed postcards, Red Front sponsored, they should be withheld.

Fortunately, he is not.

Even though the reasons are stated clearly, there is a feeling of regret in the announcement today by the Warren National Bank of the cancellation of their annual flower show for the duration. This has become such an expected community event that it will be like parting with an old friend. We hope the duration will not be too long!

The many friends of the Huber family, of Clarendon, join in the widespread sorrow expressed over the untimely accident which caused the death of Simon A.
Huber, 43, at the Warren General Hospital this morning.

The most encouraging war news of late is that which comes from Moscow today which says that delegates of the major United Nations are gathering for a "save Russian and win the war" conference.

The number of accidents being reported to the state and borough traffic officials indicates that still more care and caution must be exercised by motorists of the area.

Morning sleep for many folks along the avenue would be more enjoyable if some person would find a way to freeze auto horns between six and eight o'clock.

Four more weeks of vacation for the school kiddies and their teachers.

Make your week-end perfect by going to church Sunday.

The Western Hemisphere Faces the Axis

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—No matter what other little niche Henry A. Wallace gets in the hall of fame, he'll go down as the tie-breaking vice president this country has ever had.

The "ninety-seventh senator"— as the V-P is sometimes called can vote only in case of a tie. Some vice presidents have never had an opportunity to vote in their deadlock-breaking role or may not.

Vice President Garner, for instance, stuck around eight years with only one chance to knock the bottom out of a tie vote. But in some 20 months in office, Mr.
Wallace has cast his vote in the Senate five times. That may not be the 160-year-old record. But senate historians think it is.

MR. WALLACE made a very poor start as a tie-breaker.
When his first opportunity came last year, he was out having lunch.
It was a measure important to the administration, too. But the boys fixed it up. They reconsidered.
And on the second vote, Wallace was in the chair.

That reconsideration saved him from falling into the class with Vice President Curtis. The latter once had his chance to break a tie on an administration favored bill —but couldn't be found. He was taking a nap—a real one.

Several weeks ago the Senate congressional bill to kill the Civilian Conservation Corps. The vote was 50-50 again, and Wallace stepped in to save the CCC temporarily at least. It wasn't his fault that it was afterward knocked out in a House-Senate committee conference.

By the time the vote came up recently on whether the Senate should have the right to confirm all Office of Civilian Defense employees earning more than $4,500 a year, the vice president was a veteran at busting up the legislative ball game. He knocked the ball out of the park, leaving the OCD to do its upper bracket hiring without senatorial interference.

HE COULD have rested on his laurels there, but it was only a few days later that the Senate split 30 to 30 on a vote which would have rubbed out the Florida barges canal. His vote was for it.
There was only one difficulty here, the vote was on a motion to amend, which, like some other votes, loses in case of a tie. At that point the canal didn't need saving —it already had been—but the V-P got in his say anyway.

The epidemic of the votes, according to some senate ancients, is the result of the breakdown in party lines. Only on rare occasions these days do the members of either house vote strictly along party lines. Republicans often vote with the Administration and there's hardly a ballot when the Democratic side of both chambers is sprinkled generously with votes against Administration measures.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Doing a hula dance on ice skates is next to impossible, but the kids at the New Yorker do a pretty good job of trying. Their new ice revue, based on the waving palms and grass skirt idea, with a throwback to the Gay Nineties and George M. Cohan, is easily the best this hotel night spot has had.
The management has come up with a find in Ariane, a young Swiss girl of looks and talent.
This is her first showing in the U. S. Being able to skate well isn't enough for the movie you've got to have a certain moving kind of beauty to go with it, and Ariane has it. The scouts definitely are interested.

SOMETHING that comes close to being right out of Walt Disney is to be found on the Rustic roof at the Sheraton, New York's only completely open air roof garden. No lights are used save tiny candles on the tables, and these give off a fiery effect as they glow and flicker in the darkness.
But the real show comes from the transport planes and bombers that wing over the city and from the ports and landing fields on Long Island. As they come down the Island the great searchlights pick them up and, like great moths bathed in white, you can follow them from the Island across Manhattan, and on until they are lost in the mists of Jersey, Disney

MRS. MURDOCK TAKES A CASE by George Harm on Cox

Chapter 39 Trapped

JOYCE MURDOCK put down the telephone and went to the hall closet. She pulled out her tweed coat and a dark green felt hat that tipped up in the back and down in front. At the mirror she adjusted it, aware now of a feeling of excitement.

She slipped on her coat, went back to the desk, and picked up the rolled photograph. Mannish in cut, the coat had a deep inner pocket and she put the pictures there, buttoning only the lower button so as not to crush them. She inspected her handbag, stopped with her hand on the doorknob to see if she had forgotten anything, and went out.

Kent said he would bring the car around for her, and she found it parked between two others. She started for it, opening her handbag and taking out her keys. The doors were locked and she opened the right-hand one and pushed over behind the wheel, rolling down the window as she inserted the ignition key. When she reached over to close the door a man was standing there watching her.

"Oh!" Her voice caught on that startled cry and for an instant her heart stopped. Fear streaked through her and her body froze. She tried to find her voice again and it failed her and there was nothing she could do except stare.

"Don't have a gun here." He was very polite about it and his voice was as she remembered it, his pronunciation studied and precise. He moved the pocket of his coat so she could see the outline of the muzzle. "Please do not make any noise."

Unfinished Work
CURIOUSLY, his voice brought relief to her. She began to breathe again and her heart took up its beating. Warmth returned to her cheeks and only the thin line of her spine remained cold.

He was waiting for me, she thought. Down the street or behind one of these cars. And now he's going to get in.

He sat down beside her, one hand on the gun. He closed the door and sat back.

"What do you want?" she asked, ashamed that her voice sounded so weak and inane.

"First," he said, "we will drive away from here. I think I know you'll be careful."

She started the engine, worked her way out of the parking space, and with the job of driving occupying some of her attention she found it possible to think again. "How long had you been waiting?"

"Not long. I was trying to decide what to do."
"You're taking rather a long chance, aren't you? With the police looking for you?"
"One has to take chances some times."
Joyce turned downtown. The thing to do was talk—and keep him talking—until she knew what he intended to do.
"What do you want with me?" she said.
"You told the police you saw me last night?"
"Yes."
"I was afraid you might."
"You saw me?"
"No, but I knew that you and the Stewart girl were friends. I

Warren National Bank Flower Show Cancelled For Duration

The Warren National Bank has announced that their annual flower show originally scheduled for September 12, 1942, will be discontinued this year and for the duration of the war. It is stated that this action is taken in the belief that many former exhibitors in the flower show have been too busy with regular work in defense industries, and also in volunteer work in connection with war activities to give their best attention to flower gardens this year, and therefore, are unprepared to make their usual contribution to the show. It is also felt that in these times the utmost attention should be given to the war activities in which so many people are concerned, either directly or indirectly.

The annual Warren National Bank Flower Show has been held continuously since 1926 and this would have been the seven-teenth event, which it is hoped can be resumed sometime during the next few years.

War Transportation Agency Being Organized In Warren

Formation of a new and important agency in Warren county, a War Transportation Committee, which will work under a state and national set-up headed by the Office of Defense Transportation at Washington, D. C., was announced here today.

Administrator for this county is Clement Wolstencroft, of the Struthers-Wells Company, whose appointment as of August 5 was announced by the Governor's Highway Traffic Advisory Committee to the War Department as of August 5.

This committee is primarily aimed at the assurance of continued transportation facilities for workers in defense industries, it was stated. However, since the workers in these industries and their families constitute so large a portion of the total population, the matter becomes one of general interest and importance, it was pointed out.

"The tire situation is bad and getting worse," it was stated today. "The purpose of this committee will be to gather information as to available transportation through forms to be submitted to defense workers and then to coordinate the use of cars to obtain maximum efficiency and to save rubber."

Very shortly Mr. Wolstencroft will make public announcement of the committee selected and will announce the general methods to be followed in carrying out the plans which ultimately may be of the utmost importance in delivering the war worker to his job.

'Save Russia' Conference Is Being Held

conferences were proceeding today between Admiral Standley, Maj. Gen. Follett Bradley of the U. S. air force, and Soviet officials.

A Moscow communique announced that Bradley, who arrived in Moscow by bomber three days ago, came for "a discussion with the appropriate Soviet authorities of practical questions connected with the supply of arms and war materials to the U. S. S. R. from the United States."

The Moscow dispatches indicated that Bradley had not yet seen Premier Stalin, for whom he brought a letter from President Roosevelt.

(For the past week the Axis radios have been circulating "unconfirmed rumors" that Prime Minister Churchill was in Moscow along with William C. Bullitt, a special envoy of President Roosevelt.)

front, the Russians said nine of 10 big Junkers transports which landed in one sector were set afire or smashed and the soldiers accounted for to the last man.

Warfront dispatches said the Nazis were showering parachutists behind Soviet lines after landing groups of between 100 and 150 along with small tanks earlier in the week. The latest invaders were declared exterminated or swiftly rounded up.

The increasing Nazi use of aerial troops was disclosed as tanks and enemy spearheads drove deeper into the north Caucasus below Rostov and edged closer to Stalingrad from the southwest.

The Soviet noon communique said fighting continued without let-up through the night in the four main theaters of action.

In one clash on the Kletskaya sector of the Stalingrad front it reported the Germans were forced to retreat after losing 22 tanks and Soviet forces were credited with killing 800 Germans and knocking out nine tanks in another battle.

Repeated German attacks were declared repulsed south of Kishinev in the northern Caucasus. There the communique listed 700 Germans killed and nine tanks knocked out by one Soviet unit.

Red army units were forced back in several sectors of the Balkans front, 100 miles south-east of Rostov yesterday by a German thrust paralleling the Rostov-Baku railway.

Thus the 50-year-old German-born tavern keeper, a naturalized American, returned to the cell-life which has been since he broke into headlines last April for having aided a fleeing Nazi prisoner of war. For this he was sentenced to hang on Friday, Nov. 13.

STORY OF FORMER CIRCUS MAN DOUBTED

Cleveland, Aug. 7.—(P)—Detective Frank W. Story returned here from Pittsburgh today with a suspect in the $200,000 Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey fire, but expressed the opinion that the 16-year-old boy had nothing to do with the conflagration.

District Attorney Russell H. Adams at Pittsburgh reported Lemandris Ford admitted he and a companion started the Tuesday fire which brought death to 42 non-performing animals in the circus menagerie.

But Story said Ford was vague when questioned about the menagerie tent and the animals in it, and was trapped into making a number of disconnected statements.

Report Given On Accidents In Warren Co.

A report issued today by Corporal D. A. Gehr at the local barracks of the state motor police showed a decrease in accidents in the county during the month of July, 1941, but the number injured was increased by 12 and one more person was killed over the period this year.

During the past month seven accidents were investigated by the motor police, 20 persons injured and two killed. Eight persons were injured in one accident, nine in another, to account for the high total. Last year 12 accidents occurred during July within the county, eight persons hurt and one killed.

State-wide statistics also released by Corporal Gehr, showing the comparison of fatal accidents during the first six months of this year with the corresponding period in 1941, showed a general decrease. Warren county showing a decrease of three, having four in the first six months during 1941 and only one this year. The total number of fatalities this year at the end of June was 127 throughout the state, as compared with 178 in 1941. In areas where gas has been rationed there were 75 fatal mishaps this year and 116 last year over the six-months period, and unrationed gas areas showed only 52 fatal accidents up to June this year and 62 in 1941.

No reason is given for the larger number of fatalities in the rationed gasoline areas than that in the unrationed zones.
